RAIZA MEDINA

FRONTEND DEVELOPER

Passionate Frontend Developer with 9 years of international experience and a Master's degree in Communication Sciences. I specialize in developing scalable, accessible, and high-performance user interfaces using React, JavaScript, CSS Modules, and modern frameworks.

With a strong background in communication, I create engaging and intuitive digital experiences by combining design principles with functional, responsive development. I thrive in agile environments, collaborating closely with designers, developers, and stakeholders to align technology with business goals.
